Masagca Eris Jacey was a student of Fuhua Secondary School from January 2011 to December 2014. He was in the Express Stream and sat for the Singapore-Cambridge GCE O-Level Examination in 2014.

Extremely personable, amiable and affable, Eris is a gentleman who carries himself with confidence and poise. Mature in his outlook and sensible in his thinking, he is an intrinsically-motivated individual with an optimistic outlook in life. Armed with a ready smile and great fortitude, he is an obliging, compassionate and sincere individual who regards it a privilege to be able to contribute positively to the well-being of others. His good nature and thoughtful ways, together with his insights and composed disposition have made him well liked by his peers and teachers. An upright and trustworthy individual, he shows tact, accommodation and integrity in his dealings with others. Besides displaying resilience, perseverance and patience in times of adversity, his emotional capacity to handle pressure is noteworthy. Efficient and dependable, he is committed in all the tasks assigned to him and he handles them with vigour and enthusiasm.

Eris is an intelligent and conscientious student who is dedicated to attaining academic excellence. With a high degree of motivation and a positive attitude towards learning, his persevering spirit and firm determination have enabled him to make commendable progress in his academic pursuits. Meticulous and diligent in his bearing, he takes pride in all his assignments and handles them with perseverance, enthusiasm and steadfastness. He is an inquisitive student who displays a fine sense of independence and responsibility for his own learning. Endowed with a good memory and the power of analysis, he grasps essential concepts with ease and is able to apply them across a variety of situations. He is a passionate learner who has the capacity for higher thinking skills.

His spirit of commitment is evident from his tireless contribution to the Fuhua Military Band, of which he was an active member for four years. His unsinting contributions and talent have no doubt played an integral part in the success of the band in achieving the Certificate of Distinction at the Singapore Youth Festival Arts Presentation in 2013. Together with the band, Eris took pride in being part of many public performances namely Limelight Concert at Esplanade and many school events, such as the National Day Celebrations.

Eris has demonstrated a commitment to serve the community through active participation in the Values-in-Action Programme by helping to conserve the environment through recycling projects such as the collection of old newspapers. He has also taken part in charitable activities such as flag days and funfairs to raise funds for the school, as well as for charitable organizations. In 2013, together with his classmates, he rendered his service at an old folks' home in Bintan, Indonesia. They interacted with the old folks and taught them how to
